Tech Lead Mumbai

Started out as an intern for a couple of months but joined as a Fullstack Developer by constantly working on client side and server side applications. Currently leading a small team of 3 developers to fulfill requirements of operations and build features for the client base.

- Collaborated with 1 other developer to revamp the product website and cut down the load time by 75%.
- Delivered several useful modules on internal team dashboard after planning with operations and business development team.
- Successfully integrated 3rd party payment gateway for one time as well as subscription based payments

Udacity udacity.com

Mar 2018 to Aug 2018

Mentor & Reviewer Remote

As a graduate of Udacity's Frontend Nanodegree, I realized that I understood all the concept well enough to be able to explain them to my peers which might help them out. This position at Udacity helped me achieve the same.

- Mentored students of the frontend nanodegree
- Reviewed over 70 project submissions of the Jasmine Test Suite Project that was a part of the nanodegree curriculum.
